Hallo i am Banksy i am really starting to find this really funny and amusing, but some people really never learn.

I really don't know who this lawfirm sands is, the thing that is a fact is that they do NOT represent Banksy, the artist and they do NOT represent Pest Control the company.

So any complaints or stuff they have sent is false and do not come from the company Pest Control.

I really don't give a shit who the Law firm is, but as i have said earlier, Pest control company have no complains and has no objection on the use or the registration in question.

But now i will strongly advise that the Lawfirm sands drop this fishing expedition for whom ever they represent, because they do not represent Banksy or Pest control company.

But the company number is public information so is the address and so on, so i'm sure a lot of companyes find them selves in this type of situations from time to time.

But a law firm should know better than being a part of what i see as an etempt of fraud, and my Barristars and Lawyers may find this quite entertaining but they really don't laugh that mutch neighter do my judges.

Love from
